FOURTY-FIRST YEAR NO. 13.

CEDARVILLE, OHIO, FRIDAY, MARCH 15, 1918

PRICE, $1.00 A YEAR

FACTIONAL TROUBLES AIDED IN CIRCUIT COURT.

Decision of Judge C. C. Surber in "Reformers" case has been a surprise to all. The decision is in favor of the "Reformers" and against the "Republicans".

For several months the two factions in the Republican party have been contending for control of the county committee. Several vacancies on the committee due to removals had to be filled and the "Reformers" attempted to fill them by secret meetings, no attention being paid as to the rules of the committee or of parliamentary law.

One of the vacancies was in Cedarville township, Wm. Hopping having been named by the regular committee to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Amos Tomkinson. The rump committee named J. C. Townsley. The other vacancies were in Spring Valley, Xenia and Bath.

The Gowdy-Marshall faction brought suit in the Circuit Court and asked for a restraining order to prevent the regulars from acting. The suit was heard in Columbus last Thursday and the court's decision was handed down Saturday. The restraining order was denied because a committee is not a public officer.

R. L. Gowdy represented the rump faction, while Judge Shoup, Harry Smith, Frank L. Johnson and Kenneth Williamson represented the regular faction. The regulars demanded security for the costs in the case, and L. T. Marshall signed for this. The costs will be between $45 and $50 for the four cases.

So far as the contest between Wm. Hopping and J. C. Townsley is concerned, neither was actually a party seeking the place; their names being used by the respective leaders.

The action of the court set aside everything done by the "rumpers" in seeking to name Dan Jones for the board of elections. The regular committee having properly made the recommendation of Horace Zell to the Secretary of State means this gentleman will be appointed.

Another feature of the contest was the desire of the Gowdy-Marshall crowd to control the clerk of the board of elections, a position now held by Attorney Kenneth Williamson, son of Mr. J. C. Williamson.

Monday the central committee was called together, but for some reason or another the Gowdy-Marshall faction was not represented by the members under their dictation. The result of the court decision is said to have completely upset their plans. Rumors have been going the rounds that before many months pass this faction of the party will insist on the retirement of both Gowdy and Marshall.

A bitter feeling has existed for several years, between the Gowdy-Marshall faction siding under the banner of "reformers," the other faction held up as horrible examples of Satan's representatives. The public has been unable to find any difference between the management of either faction, other than to find out that the "rumpers" are nothing more than sham reformers.

At the Monday meeting, Mr. Frank Creswell, a prominent young farmer, was chosen to fill the vacancy in this township, as Mr. Hopping resigned. The committee removed T. C. Long as a member of the committee for "failure to perform his duties." Tom had previously been secretary and had been removed for the same cause. Judge Shoup was named for this vacancy. Roy Hayward resigned as a member of the executive committee and Frank Ritenour took his place.

Mr. N. H. Fairbanks of Springfield, brother to the former vice-president, was a guest of the committee and made an eloquent address for party action this fall. Frank C. Barrett of Fayette county, was endorsed for state senator from this district.

The little band of self-styled "reformers," even though they would have the public believe they were of the "Garden of Eden" variety, stand as anything but reformers to the court and those who have been in touch with political affairs in the county the past few years.

SERVICE FLAG DEDICATED.

On Thursday, March 7th, a service flag in honor of her graduates and students who are participating in the war, was dedicated by Cedarville College. A most interesting patriotic program was presented.

President W. R. McChesney, Ph. D., D. D., presided, and Prof. F. A. Jurk, L. L. D., led the devotion. A number of splendid musical selections were rendered by the newly organized College Orchestra, composed of Misses Helen Oglesbee and Rebecca Marsh and Messrs. D. L. Doherty, N. C. Foster, R. H. Edwards and S. M. Clearwell. The College Quartette, composed of Misses Irene Wright and Rebecca Marsh and Messrs. S. M. Creswell and O. K. Cornwell, with Miss Helen Oglesbee as pianist, sang some beautiful numbers.

Mrs. W. H. McGervey, of Xenia, instructor in vocal music in the College, sang beautifully, "When the Boys Come Back," and "You Flag and My Flag." Mrs. Dorothy Oglesbee also sang very acceptably "Keep the Home Fires Burning," and "Hats Off to the Flag."

Interesting and appropriate readings were given by Mr. R. L. Hutchinson, "Taking His Place," and by Miss Rebecca Marsh, "Mother on the Sidewalk."

The service flag, a gift to the College from the Women's Advisory Board of the College, was presented by Miss Mary B. Erwin, '02, a member of the Board. In an eloquent address she paid a glowing tribute to the young men educated in the College, who are fighting our battles in the great war for freedom. The flag was accepted on behalf of the College by the President, Dr. W. R. McChesney, in a finished oration, reviewing the thrilling events, leading up to our entrance into the great war, and showing the splendid part Cedarville College is taking in it.

The audience then sang "America," after which a tableau, representing Betty Ross showing the first model of "Old Glory" to George Washington, was given. The characters in this were Miss Helen Oglesbee and Messrs. William Collins, Paul Elwood and Robert Colman, Jr. The benediction was pronounced by the Rev. W. S. Fulton.

The following graduates and former students of the College are at the present time in the actual service of the United States: Robert Fred Bird, '10; David Collins Bradfute, '16; John Wallace Collins, '17; Paul Herschel Creswell, Carl Gracey Duncan, '18; Roscoe E. Eckelberry, Rev. Wendell Franklin Foster, '18; Dr. John Cecil George, '01; Rev. William Ranwick Henderson, '02; Charles Ellsworth Lowery; Charles Raymond McClure; George M. McCreary, '15; Homer Turnbull, '16; Hugh Turnbull, '12; John Calvin Wright. Honorable mention is also to be made of Samuel Franklin Creswell, '10, and of John Roscoe McClure, '12, who volunteered and spent some weeks in the officers' training camp at Ft. Benjamin Harrison, Indiana, but were rejected on account of physical disabilities. Two interesting letters were read from Cadet Paul H. Creswell, who is in an aviation training camp somewhere in Italy.

At the Monday meeting, Mr. Frank Creswell, a prominent young farmer, was chosen to fill the vacancy in this township, as Mr. Hopping resigned. The committee removed T. C. Long as a member of the committee for "failure to perform his duties." Tom had previously been secretary and had been removed for the same cause. Judge Shoup was named for this vacancy. MASONS ENTERTAIN HONORING TWO MEMBERS WHO ARE LEAVING HERE.

The Masonic lodge entertained its members and the wives and lady friends of its members, Tuesday evening in honor of Mr. J. W. Backus and wife and Dr. J. W. Dixon and wife. About seventy were present. The evening was spent in a social way and refreshments of ice cream, cake and coffee were served.

Mr. L. H. Sullenberger, acting as toastmaster and called upon a number for toasts. Rev. J. W. Patton in a very happy manner toasted the outgoing brother and their wives who are leaving here, Dr. J. W. Dixon and the work of lodge through life's journey. Deputy Probate Judge S. C. Wright, on "Recruits," County Superintendent W. M. Reynolds, two boys in the service, Dr. J. W. Dixon expressed his appreciation of the honor and courtesy shown during the evening. Two of the new citizens of the community, Mr. N. P. Eubank and J. D. Mott, both gave appropriate remarks.

Private John Townsley, of Camp Sheridan, one of the first members of the local lodge and one who had the honor of being made a 32nd degree Mason while in camp at Columbus, expressed his thanks of being able to go to his home lodge on such an occasion.

The local lodge has already this year taken in a number of new members with several on the waiting list. With about a dozen members five years ago when the lodge was instituted the membership now nears fifty. Dr. Leo Anderson is W. M. and is giving a great increase in membership and influence in the community.

ORANGE AND BLUE NEWS.

The next program meeting or entertainment as we prefer to call it, will be held, God permitting, next Tuesday evening, March 19th, at the tenth, and seven and a half by the clock.

Seven times during the last six days we have heard the query, "Can those who are not members come to the meetings?"

You bet you may come! We want you to come. We hope you can come. You don't think we have as good a time when there are college students only? It seems more like a social occasion when there are those who are not members. Of course we are very nervous and shy of strangers, but it is good training for us. If you are human you will enjoy the Orange and Blue Club program and you will have some through out this first year of the infant club's wonderful life have enjoyed the program. Consider that you have kind. No charge is made. You are requested to save your money for the movies or the opera.

You who never go to college games and entertainments, who know that there is a college, that Dr. McChesney is President and nothing else, you should be acquainted with Cedarville College. You should know what your college is doing.

We suppose there are a few dried-up quinquies who forget their delicious youth and cannot realize how there may be more to education than studying and reciting. We sympathize with them. We are grateful to them for avoiding our meetings. But all you who are human, we earnestly desire to be with us.

The recently organized college orchestra is to play for us. There will be humorous and serious readings and talks and music.

The members of the faculty have been kind in being with the students and helping them by taking part and acting as critic. We are grateful to them and we like them to be at the club meetings. We love to surprise them by our intelligence and brilliancy outside the classroom.

Meet us at the college Tuesday night, So long.

LIBRARY NOTES.

Public library open hours 10 to 12 p. m. 1 to 5 p. m.; 5:30 to 8 p. m. More books needed for the camp libraries and for our men "over there." Library buildings have been erected by the American Library Association in 24 of the large camps. Each building accommodates from 10,000 to 15,000 volumes and from 175 to 250 readers. In every camp from 8 to 250 branch libraries are maintained in Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. and in hospital reading rooms; and each branch needs from 500 to 1,500 of A. L. A. books.

Men overseas are being supplied from dispatch officers' established at Atlantic ports and by the purchase of books in Europe.

The imperative need now is for more books. They do not ask for money but for you to donate one of your books which you know a soldier or sailor would enjoy. This campaign began March 15, to 25, 1918. It is like a "Readers' Digest" of Western Stories, Detective Stories, Biography, Travel, History and Poetry of all kinds. War Books and Military Manuals and up-to-date technical books are also included.

They may be left at the public library, or if books cannot be left at the public library, they will be called for, if the librarian is notified.

GLASSES DROP INTO CISTERN; QUOTE A LOSS.

Mr. W. L. Clemens, of Cedarville, enjoys a drink of rain water, but under the circumstances he takes a pair of twenty dollar gold glasses dropped down into the cistern as he reached for a drink one day the last of March.

He knows now that a fellow has to be careful even when he takes a drink in a dry country like Washington, C. H. Herald.

CHARLESTON "GOES OVER."

South Charleston has been considered and will have a chaotic situation. The contract having been signed by 100 citizens which indicate that the people of that place want to keep ahead of the game. Here's hoping that Cedarville will do the same. There is a great need for a truce in war time. In peace, our boys may be "over there" and then some sad news may occasionally reach us. The chaotica is an unending institution and we keep a community from becoming downcast in times of trouble.

WIND STORM SATURDAY NIGHT DOES MUCH DAMAGE.

This section was visited by a wind storm Saturday night that did considerable damage. The silo on the Charles Crouse farm on the Columbus road was blown over. The roof on the Alford Memorial was badly damaged, about one-third of the south side being torn off. There were many reports of damage over the county.

THEY LEAVE THEM ALRIGHT.

Peter Kuntz, of Dayton, who has lumber yards in a score of towns and cities, died last week and according to the press left an estate estimated at $100,000.00. Notice how it reads "He left it." Think what ten million would do humanity in a hundred different ways, anyone of which would have perpetuated the name of the donor for centuries to come.

J. H. ANDREW DEAD.

James H. Andrew, a life long citizen of this township, who for many years has lived on the Scarborough farm on the Columbus pike, died Wednesday morning after a six months illness of heart trouble and dropsy.

The deceased was the son of Harvey and Sarah Andrew and was in his 77th year. He was born in this township and spent his entire life here. He was married to Mary L. Crouse about 48 years ago and is survived by his widow and three sons, Duff, Frank and Earl. A daughter, Mrs. Maude Satterfield, died about six years ago. He was also a member of the "squirrel hunters," but did not take part in the army service.

The funeral will be held Friday afternoon from Mr. J. H. Andrew's residence, the services being in charge of Rev. Patton. Burial at Massies Creek cemetery.

A. C. Latimer, a converted Mormon high priest, spoke in the Main street R. P. Church, Tuesday evening before a good sized audience. The lecture was an exposure of Mormonism and what takes place in the temple. Judging from comment from many who heard, the lecture there is a great difference of opinion whether such lectures before a mixed audience are the proper thing. No one seems to question any of the speakers' statements, and credit him with a great work in exposing this monstrous wrong that exists. The dividing line on when and where to reveal such conditions differs with most people.

NEWS OF XENIA.

Persons.

Miss Pearl Stanton, of Deer Creek, has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. George Hewitt and family, a few days of the past week.

Mrs. Howard Wildman and children, Lloyd, Edwin and Roger, were the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Conner and family last Friday.

Miss Marie Shough and Miss Ruth Chandler were the guests of Arthur Wildman and family, last Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hewitt and family, and Miss Pearl Stanton, were in Springfield last Tuesday.

Mr. Fred Powers was the guest of Howard Wildman and family, last Thursday.

Miss Louise Schickedantz was in South Charleston last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Edmiston and children, Carol and Dorothy, called on Fred Colloff and family, living north of here, last Sunday afternoon.

Charles Bradford and family entertained relatives last Sunday, from So. Charleston.

Miss Edith McMullen was the guest of Miss Marie Shough, of So. Charleston, over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. McDorman and family were shopping in Springfield last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Holloway and family were in Springfield Saturday afternoon.

The terrible wind storm last Saturday night, while through here in its mad rush, did a great deal of damage. A queer accident happened at a farm near here last Saturday night during the storm.

Edward Ward and family, living north of town, were suddenly awakened in the latter part of the night by a crashing and splintering of timbers, and soon found out, much to their surprise, that the wind had lifted the entire roof from the house, carried it out into the yard and placed it right side up a few rods away.

Other farmers report that silos and wind-mills have been blown over, roofs blown from outbuildings, window sashes broken and fender scattered over the entire town fields. Several window sashes and pictures hanging on the wall were broken at the school house, although the damage done there was small.

Families Moving In.
Fred Colloff, formerly of Sinking Creek, has purchased the William Thorpe place north-east of here and moved his family there a few days ago.

Charles Bradford, who recently moved from Cedarville, now occupies with his family, the former home of William Smith, west of here.

Harold Porter and family, formerly living on the W. A. McDorman place, have moved and are now living on the Louis McDorman farm east of town.

High School Notes.
Large numbers from all the nearby towns and villages attended the lecture last Thursday night, at the school auditorium, given by J. H. Scattergood of Philadelphia, Pa. The lecture was on the Red Cross and Reconstruction work in France and Belgium, and was illustrated by stereoscopic views showing the wrecked and devastated villages and land back of the fighting lines. Several months ago Mr. Scattergood left his business and home in Philadelphia to join the Reconstruction unit, then sailing for France. After staying many months in France, rebuilding homes and doing hospital and farm work, he came back to America to lecture. The stereoscopic views were extremely interesting, one of them showing one of our local representatives, Leland Calvert, in a typical French scene. Selma has three representatives in France now doing reconstruction work, Leland Calvert, Walter Wildman and Folger Howell.

George Finney entertained Raymond Edmiston and Errett Kinnison with music at his home last Friday evening.

On account of Miss Margaret Jackson, the music teacher, spending last Friday at Camp Sherman, the music lessons were given last Thursday instead of being given on the regular day, Friday.

The "War Gardens" in the experimental laboratory, are doing very nicely, most of the seeds being up. Quite a rivalry is being shown between two of the teachers, who are striving to demonstrate their wonderful knowledge of seeds and gardening.

Malcolm Elder was in Indianapolis, Ind., a few days ago and purchased a press and complete printing equipment, and states that Selma will soon have a weekly paper. Malcolm has contracted to do the printing of our high school magazine, "The Planet."

Selma has one of the few high schools of Clark county supporting a high school paper, edited and published by the students. The school annual will be ready by May 20th. Those wanting copies, are requested to see Edward Battin, circulation manager, and have their names filed, as only a limited number of copies will be printed. It would be wise for the school photographer, to organize a "camera brigade," as there are enough of them to make a troop and who knows but what Uncle Sam will use them some day. We wonder if Miss Hagan's kodak was injured last Friday when it clicked and caught Mr. Dines and Miss Red, in that striking pose?

Albert Schickedantz, senior '17, who has been attending O. S. U. at Columbus, spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Schickedantz, south of here.

Homer Branch, freshman, was in Springfield Monday.

The pupils of the high school received invitations last Tuesday to the party to be given by Miss Pauline Thomas, sophomore, the coming Friday evening at her home east of here.

To YOU, - Mr. Farmer; -

To day our Government is calling upon you to use your every effort to produce enough to feed the World.

As it nears the time when Spring crops are to be planted, you are planing how best to do your part. - How by intensified methods, - by systematic handling, you may reap the larger harvest; by so doing, benefit not only this Nation and the World at large, but yourself as well.

It is by the same methods that this store has grown to be -- "Springfield's Largest Store". From season to season we plan ahead. We keep in constant touch with the World's markets of our crop (the best merchandise). We buy as you saw, carefully and with thought for the future. By every intensified method known to modern business, we plan for our harvest, - a harvest of values. Our success depends on how much we benefit our patrons, by giving them dependable merchandise at honest prices.

The value of the Dollars you receive for your crops is measured by their buying power. Your harvest is increased or decreased by the care and judgment you use in the spending of your dollars.

Did you ever stop to think that any one of the many departments in this big store is larger than the individual stock of any single store in this community, specializing in that commodity? You can not help but realize the buying power possessed by an establishment of this size.

QUANTITY, - that gives the most complete selection.
QUALITY, - that is dependable and always gives satisfaction.
PRICE, - that, quality considered, is always the lowest.

These three things that increase the buying power of your Dollars and make your crops more profitable, are always to be found here.

We want you to think this over. We want you to come in and look over the crops of values we have for your inspection. We want you to see the Values your Dollars will buy here.

Respectfully Yours

THE EDWARD WREN COMPANY.
